EXTEND SALE OF RATION FREE SHOES

Sales of certain (chiefly in voluntary) types of women's shoes ration free, at three dollars or less a pair, have been extended an extra week—through February 5, OPA has announced.

POKE FROM SLAUGHTERERS

Twelve red stamps in Book 4, which are numbered "F" and lettered "A" through "M," may be used by consumers in general until February 27. They will have the same expiration dates for purchases from farmers as in the city markets. The stamps are worth 10 points each, making a total value of 120 points. This does not give the individual who buys from a farm slaughterer a larger meat ration than anyone else. It merely allows him to buy a fairly large amount at one time. In addition, brown stamps in Book Three may be used ahead of their regular validity dates when used in used in buying from farmers.

USE GREEN STAMPS FIRST

Green stamps K, L and M in War Ration Book 4 will be used for buying processed foods from February 1, through March 20, of the Office of Price Administration announced today.

These are the last green stamps on the page, and also the last green stamps that consumers will use for the time being. The new blue stamps, to be used with ration tokens, come into use on February 27.

Between February 27 when the blue stamps become valid and March 30 when the old green stamps run out, consumers may use both sets of stamps for a single purchase. Tokens will be given in exchange for both colors of stamps. Green stamps will continue to have the same point value as at present—8, 5, 2 and 1 points; the new blue stamps will have a uniform point value of 10.

Since the green stamps expire long before the blue, consumers are advised to spend their green stamps first. After March 30th processed foods will be bought with blue stamps and blue tokens.

SEA SCOUT SAGA

SALES ALSO SERVE

Sails also serve in the important work of training seamen for Victory Fleet. Only under sail does a man feel of the sea, learn what and rope work, the hundred and one details of running a ship. Under the administration of the U. S. Coast Guard, the Maritime Service commissioned the schooner Vema and the square-riggers, Joseph Conrad and Tullulah, for basic training under sail. To see the cadets at work to learn how they live, what they eat, what manner of men they are, the U. S. M. S. Vema, a 200 foot-three-master, former yacht of Edward P. Burton, and once proud holder of the Blue Ribbon of the Atlantic for fire-drill rigged vessels. Today she is stripped of her teak and mahogany, her fireplaces and heavy furnishings. Only spot below decks to escape the refit is the captain's cabin, quarters of Capt. Steele, U. S. C. G. Off areunks, showers, and lockers for seventy-eight cadets. The galley was enlarged; no corners are cut on the three squares a day. Morning at sea, the cadets go aloft at the command of Mr. Hansen, chief officer who shipped aboard the Vema when a yacht. Upstairs in the rigging, come fair weather or foul, the men learn their way about.

IT'S GREAT TO BE A SCOUT

BOY SCOUT WEEK
FEBRUARY 8-14

More than 1,000,000 Boy Scouts Clubs and their adult volunteer leaders will observe Boy Scout Week, Feb. 8 to 14, marking the 34th anniversary of the founding of Scouting in the United States. Since 1910, more than 11,000,000 American boys and men have agreed that—"It's Great to be a Scout."

Boy Scout Week to Be Celebrated February 8-14

Thirty-fourth Anniversary of Scouting in America

Milton Holland to Head Virginia Beach Troop

Local Scouts to Aid 4th War Bond Committee

Boy Scouts, Clubs, and adult leaders of the Princess Anne Council join with other members of the movement throughout the United States in the celebration of Boy Scout Week which begins Tuesday, February 8, and continues through Monday, February 14.

Boy Scout Week marks the 34th anniversary of the founding of the Movement in America. Since February 8, 1910, more than 11,000,000 men and boys have been actively identified with Scouting. The present-day enrollment is in excess of 1,575,000 Scouts, Clubs and adult volunteer leaders.

The birthday will be observed in every city and town in the nation and in hundreds of villages and hamlets as well. The highlights of Boy Scout Week will be the celebration this year of the creation by Boy Scouts Troops of "Victory Patrols" comprising former Scouts who are now in the armed forces. Many soldiers, sailors and marines, particularly the younger ones, visit their former Troops while on furlough and re-live some of their experiences. In many Troop celebrations this week parents or wives of servicemen will accept the "Victory Patrol" cards for remailing to their men in service.

Next Sunday is "Boy Scout Sunday" and Scouts will attend church services and synagogue services in uniform. Many services will be addressed to the Scouts and youth and help problems. Scouts will serve as ushers at many church functions. Across the Nation Americans will be reminded that the twelfth Scout Law, "A Scout is Reverent," calls for each Scout to be "reverent toward God" and "faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion."

Elmer Davis, in a letter to the Scoutmaster, a few days ago, pays the following tribute to their work:

"During the past year the Boy Scouts of America have served most efficiently as Official Government Dispatch Bearers for

Dr. Henderson is a thoroughly conversant with Elementary Education and is an attractive speaker. She served for two terms in the State Legislature, having the distinction of being one of the first ladies to serve in the legislative assembly.

Miss Velma Thomas, a student at the Ocean High School will render vocal solos with Mrs. J. E. Spruill, chairman of the music department, accompanying her. Mrs. Wallace Clark, president, will preside.

The Office of War Information. As in the first World War, the Boy Scouts have again answered their country's call in this war to help in bringing news of vital importance to the home front.

"As the Boy Scout Movement observes its thirty-fourth anniversary during Boy Scout Week, February 8-14, we extend to every member our appreciation not only for the fine record of former Boy Scouts serving with our Armed Forces but also for the record of patriotic service on the home front of today's Boy Scouts."

At a meeting of the Princess Anne Council of Boy Scouts, Wednesday, February 2, general plans for the work were outlined with regard to a post bond drive clean-up. The Boy Scouts will endeavor to aid the war effort by collecting pledge—no money—which have not been turned in. They will start at the conclusion of the drive on February 15.

Milton Holland was appointed Scout Master of the Virginia Beach Troop to replace the former Master who was transferred to the Port Story Troop, an Assistant Scout Master.

U. S. O. Hold Open House February 4, 5, and 6

National President Sends Letters of Greeting to Civilian Helpers

Public Invited to Inspect Building and Work Done.

U. S. O. is celebrating its third anniversary on Friday, February 4. Throughout the country 2,900 Clubs are holding Open House. In order that the civilian population may see just why 30,000,000 men in uniform enjoy the various privileges of U. S. O. each month this open house in February 4-5 and 6 will be held.

The local U. S. O. extends a cordial invitation to all residents of the community to come in, look around and participate in the hospitality daily offered to our men and women in uniform.

U. S. O. President Sends Letter In appreciation of the services rendered by the millions of civilians, Chester, Bernard, president of the U. S. O., Inc., sends the following letter of greeting:

"Friday, February 4th, is the Third Anniversary of U. S. O., and on this occasion I should like to extend greetings to the millions of Americans who have made its services possible.

Everyday we hear "Thank you" from some boy in uniform. He's glad to find stationery to write home. He's relaxed in a deep chair, listening to music, between trains. Maybe he's been dancing, having a fine time at a party. "Thank you," he says. And he means it.

Well, so do we. We've done our best these three years. We've done quite a lot, but not by comparison with the soldiers, sailors, marines and coast guards we've gladly served. And whatever we've been able to do U. S. O. donors have made possible.

Through almost a thousand hometown U. S. O.'s, American families are extending traditional hospitality to boys away from home. More than a hundred U. S. O. units go by truck to isolated posts where servicemen are otherwise cut off from amusement, bright lights, and the theatre.

Across the country, U. S. O. travel lounges are furnished for soldiers en route to drop in for a bite to eat, a nap, or to freshen up. And from Alaska to Brazil, the U. S. O. clubs are open with a bit of home and laughter, for men far from their own homes.

Outside the western hemisphere, troupes with volunteering stars bring music, jokes, plays—some good old American fun—to audiences of armed men in combat areas around the globe in desert wasteland, field hospitals, ruined cities, even on remote Pacific islands among war-smashed palm trees and fox-holes.

"When those men thank us, we just say, 'Sure, you're welcome. It's all yours.' We know that our million volunteers and our donors of $100,000,000 feel the same way—because we all realize our best isn't good enough. It can never match the epic courage, the unflinching devotion to duty, so amply demonstrated every day by the American servicemen."

CHRISTIE I. BERNARD, Pres. United Service Organizations, Inc.

47th C. A. to Have Farewell Party

Supper Dance in MacArthur Ballroom, February 4

The enlisted personnel of the 47th A. C., of Headquarters Battery "G" and the Medical Detachment will be hosts on Saturday evening, February 4, 1944, at a supper party at the MacArthur Ball Room, Virginia Beach, at 8 o'clock.

Gen. David P. Hardy, the former Brigade Officer and Mrs. Hardy, and Colonel Paul A. Jaccard and the Commanding Officer of the 47th, and Mrs. Jaccard and the officers and their wives and escorts will be the honored guests.

A group of young ladies, under the direction of Mrs. Basil Manly, USO Chief Hostess, and their chaperones from Norfolk, have

Although Navy chaplains attached to Marine combat units are traveling in the company of men with highly colored vocabularies, they never forget their ecclesiastical background, according to St. Sgt. Jeremiah H. O'Leary, a Marine Corps combat correspondent. Reporting an incident experienced by Chaplain Lonnie W. Meachum of Virginia Beach, Va., Sgt. O'Leary states: "The chaplain was standing in a chow line when someone inadvertently doused him with a container of boiling soup. After a moment, he managed a wry grin and said: 'Would some layman please say a few appropriate words?'"

"Once a Chaplain Always a Chaplain"

From somewhere in the South Pacific came this story of Chaplain Lonnie W. Meachum, which goes to prove that our men enduring untold hardships can still retain a sense of humor. Chaplain Meachum, formerly pastor of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, is with a Marine Combat unit in the South Pacific. It is a distinct honor to serve with a Marine outfit, as these men have the privilege of selecting the Chaplain to share their fate.

Mrs. Meachum and children now reside at Virginia Beach, on Baltic Avenue.

This is a farewell party for the 47th, and the affair promises to be a very gala one.

Bond Sales Totaled $161,085.75 at End of January

Survivors of Japanese Terrorism Sends Message to American People.

Through January 28, the committees working for the Fourth War Bond Drive reported a total of $161,085.75. With two weeks to go that leaves a total of $263,914.35 to be raised.

County Agent Omlin has sent letters to each resident in the rural section of Princess Anne County. The American Red Cross has maintained a trailer car at 17th and Atlantic each day from 3 until 9 P. These two ladies' organizations are doing an excellent job, according to reports coming in to headquarters.

Organizations and individuals cooperating will put the drive across the goal line of $425,000 for Princess Anne County.

An Eye-witness to Japanese Barbarism Speaks to the American People

The following statement by Commander Melvyn H. McCoy, USN, one of the survivors of Japanese terrorism now in this country, speaks for itself. Commander McCoy, who escaped from a Japanese prison camp, speaking on behalf of the men still in Japanese hands, has requested that this message be transmitted to the American people:

"Jap brutality is beyond description. I would not wish any more of our boys to have the same experience. I am sure that if those prisoners still in Jap hands could send a message to the United States, they would ask that the home front back them up by buying as many War Bonds as they can during the War Loan Drive.

And if we can get a message back to them that Americans are supporting the fighting front, I am sure that their spirits would be given a needed lift, despite the brutal treatment.

I urge all of you—those with brothers, sons and fathers who are seeing action in the Pacific theater, to back them up by buying bonds so that they would (Continued on page four)

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

LET'S HOLD THE LINE!

The word "inflation" of which we talk so much these days, has an ominous sound when we apply it to world conditions, but when reduced to our everyday living its meaning, can be so simple and so understandable.

The milkman, with embarrassment, presents his bill with a notice of a rise in price. We must have milk, so we pay the price.

The maid comes in and asks for a raise due to the increase in her living expenses. She has her side, too, so the money is handed over. Now this is where the housewife can do her part by "holding the line."

If she asks for more money to run the house then her husband will think he must get more money, and so it will go—the vicious circle of rising prices and higher cost of living.

The women seem to hold the whip-hand and by managing on the same budget until the last trick comes out of the sleeve is the best way for women of America to hold back the danger of inflation which would defeat the very things our boys are fighting to defend.

DO YOU MEASURE UP?

The Fourth War Loan Drive is in full swing. And now is a good time to address a word to the individual whose principal motive in buying bonds is the attainment of future financial security and a regular income from interest payments on the bonds. The trouble with this type of bond buyer is that when further purchases become inconvenient and no longer fit his "investment program," he tends to keep his pocket buttoned. He claims that he has done his share. The time is long past for this line of thinking.

Bonds today must be bought by individuals in prodigious quantities. Patriotism, not personal profit, should compel their purchase. As a matter of fact, if we mean what we say in glowing tributes to freedom and our professed willingness to make sacrifices to win the war, we should be glad to buy bonds regardless of interest enticements.

Unless bond buying, in the last analysis, is wholly dictated by the urge to cast our lot so far as possible with the men at the front, we can lay no claim to being patriotic. Real patriots care not a whit for personal security or profit when their nation is in peril.

Our freedom is in deadly peril because too many people are working for time and a half instead of for victory. The Fourth War Loan Campaign is an opportunity to turn over a new leaf. Buy bonds for the sake of your country—and forget yourself. If you do this, you can justify calling yourself a true American.

FRAGS OF WHORE BOYS

Too many people today are prone to form opinions and ideas about their neighbors because of the rumors they hear. Too many people today shrink when they hear that the new neighbor has foreign sounding name. Too many people today are prone to believe the spreading malicious rumors about neighbors.

Those who do not have the same kind of a name as they have simply because they have failed to understand the fact that our names have nothing at all to do with our beliefs in the democratic way of living.

And so today there are Americans fighting for us on all the fronts of the world who are bound together with one common ideal and one common purpose, but whose patriotism far transcends any sly innuendoes against the name they happen to bear; the church to which they go, or the country from which they or their parents have come. We are all tremendously proud of the way in which our men in the service are conducting themselves in their fight to protect our country and our ideals.

But of whose boys are we proud? In any front line dispatch, you may find such names as Schults, Bianchi, Cohen, Smith and dozens of others. Are all these boys OUR boys? The Nazis would claim that Schults is of German origin and therefore he can't be American. The fascists could not understand how a man named Bianchi could fight for the United States. Many bigots would rule out Cohen immediately—just because his name is Cohen. In other words, a man by the name of Smith might be the only "real American" from our enemies' viewpoint.

But it is only if we ourselves understand America; if we ourselves understand that what we all have together is bigger than the sound of a name—bigger even than the fact that Schults may be a Protestant, Bianchi a Catholic or Cohen a Jew, and Smith of any race or faith—that we do our part in pulling together and in demonstrating to the world our undying fealty to our country and its future. Anyone who encourages antagonism because of a different name, a different faith, or a different country or origin, is trying to sabotage our war effort, by dividing us from our neighbors and boring from within to cause disruption and havoc.

BOOKS TO OWN

POST-WAR TREATMENT OF JAPAN

At a moment when the nation is aroused to unwonted fury over the authentic stories of Japanese atrocities just released by the War Department, this recently published pamphlet on the post-war treatment of a defeated Japan may seem far too mild in tone. However, it represents the careful study and analysis of certain fundamental problems which must be thoughtfully considered. The question of adequate punishment of the Japanese people, now foremost in the public mind, is only one of six questions studied. Briefly stated, the other five are: what authority in a defeated Japan shall we deal with; what disposition is to be made of territory recently acquired by Japan; what reparations shall we demand; what special measures can be taken to prevent further Japanese military aggression; and should it be our long-range policy to support democratic peace-loving forces in Japan and plan for the eventual participation of Japan on terms of equality in an international community of nations?

POST-WAR TREATMENT OF JAPAN (Problem XI), is a free 31-page pamphlet prepared for the Universities Committee on Post-war Problems by Mr. Leonard M. Goodrich, a Director of the World Peace Foundation. A rather extensive bibliography adds greatly to its value to those wishing to make an intensive study of the various aspects of the Japanese problem.

Copies of POST-WAR TREATMENT OF JAPAN may be secured free from the University of Virginia Extension Division, in Charlottesville, Va.

TO GET 70 PER CENT OF SEEDS

Farmers, Victory gardeners, and other civilians will receive 275,252,000 pounds or 70.3 per cent of the supply of vegetable seeds allocated for all needs through June 30, the War Food Administration said recently. Although certain familiar varieties may be missing next spring, no gardener will need to be without enough seed for planting.

Seabees in the Aleutians improvised a tire-repair shop and mended an average of 175 tires a day—thus saving thousands of pounds of precious rubber that otherwise would have been scrapped.

SYMBOL OF DEMOCRACY

A series of articles on the General Assembly of Virginia

(By Frances Leigh Williams)

EDUCATION PROVES CRISP ISSUE BEFORE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The burning issue before the General Assembly this year is education, a subject of vital interest to every citizen of the State. The Governor, the Board of Education and the legislators all seem agreed that the pay of teachers should be increased. The points of difference are how much of the increase can be granted for the next biennium and how it is to be financed.

Governor Darden's recommendation calls for an increase in the State's contribution from the basic $720 to $840 "per group of 25-40 pupils in average daily attendance" the first year of the biennium. The Board of Education, has requested $12 "per group of 25-40 pupils in average daily attendance" as the irreducible minimum necessary to insure the Commonwealth an adequate school program.

Many had thought in terms of financing this increase through using some of the $19 million surplus expected by the end of the fiscal year in June. Others point out danger in utilizing this when capital outlay is imperative as soon as the war situation permits. The Governor is of the latter view and so called for a referendum on a 2 percent sales tax. Some legislators have proposed a 3 percent tax to be voted by the legislature without waiting for a referendum by the people.

Legislators are studying every angle of the situation and it is possible that a compromise may be made, granting $1,000 a year "per group of 25-40 in average daily attendance," and a 2 percent tax to finance it.

The battle for adequate public instruction is as old as the General Assembly itself. It all began back in 1819 when a hundred orphan children were sent to Virginia to be apprenticed and be taught by their masters "some good trade." An early development of "vocational training" came in 1846 when a law was passed requiring that the commissioners of each county send a boy and girl, children of poor parents, to Jamestown for instruction in a public flax factory. An interesting letter written by a colonist to a friend in England in 1849 speaks of Jamestown as having "a free school and other petty schools also." The free school probably was for orphans and paupers and the "petty" schools for small groups of children whose parents paid a tutor to school them in the three R's.

The first free school in the colonies is generally conceded to have been that founded in Virginia by provisions in the will of Benjamin Symms in 1834. The Symms Free School in Elizabeth City County was in operation prior to March, 1863, and functioned throughout the 18th century. The continuity of this earliest school is carried on in the public school through the use of part of its endowment in 1902 to erect the Symms-Baton Academy.

Other types of schooling available in Colonial Virginia were the community, or Old Field Schools, for which the teacher was employed and paid by the parents of the community or some generous patron. There were also Sabbath or Sunday Schools which taught the three R's and the Bible and were especially helpful in the country districts. "Infant schools," which began instruction of children from two to five, helped working mothers. A great force in Virginia education were the academies such as Augusta Academy, founded several years before the Declaration of Independence, which became Liberty Hall, and Prince Edward Academy founded in 1776.

Including her colleges, Virginia possessed a wealth of private institutions which probably tended to delay rather than to stimulate demand for a system of public schools. The extremely poor or financially-able could get schooling but the middle group was not well cared for. As early as 1778 Thomas Jefferson proposed a law which "would provide taxes from every county whereby elementary schools, academies, colleges and universities might be maintained." It was enacted but nothing came of it. Virginia's governors, Jefferson, Monroe, Cabell, and Tyler called for general free education but the people as a whole were apathetic. The Legislature in 1810 established the Literary Fund which was the first provision for state funds in Virginia to finance a statewide program of free schools.

Sounding like a statement on Capitol Hill this week is an educator's remark in 1825, "I need only observe that if we afford a competent support to teachers, we will find them rising up amongst us, as it were, spontaneously."

How sound have been the aims of Virginia education is evidenced by an address before the Conference of Superintendents in 1885 in which it was pointed out that "education is a development of the whole man; religion is of supreme importance, and in addition to religious instruction, the young should be accustomed to the exercise of Christian virtues, such as temperance, justice, compassion, patience and so on; discipline should aim at improving the character."

If Spring Needs Are To Be Met

FERTILIZER MUST MOVE TO FARMS IN FEBRUARY

UNTIL this past season, fertilizer has always moved to the farm just before the time it was actually needed.

This year with transportation overloaded, serious labor shortages and restricted movement of fertilizer materials to plants—at least 45 per cent of the spring tonnage must move before March 1 if fertilizer is to be on farms when needed.

Getting your order in now with your local Southern States Cooperative Service Agency is the first step in solving the fertilizer situation. The next step is to take delivery as soon as you can get it. Southern States fertilizer plants, Service Agencies and farmer-members can overcome labor, transportation and storage shortages—if everyone does his part.

Webb-Clark
The marriage of Miss Lucille Mailest Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Trammell Clark of Virginia Beach, to Lt. St. Clair Webb, Jr., Birdneck Point took place Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Joseph B. Clower, of Moraganton, N. C., officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown of white slipper satin, fashioned on princess lines, with sweetheart neckline embroidered in beading and seed pearls. Her two-tier veil of imported illusion fell from a cap of latticed satin and she carried a bouquet of orchids and white lilies. Miss Ruth Baker Clark was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Elizabeth Carolyn Webb and Nell Doran Webb.

Robert L. Webb, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were James W. Halstead, Jr., uncle of the bride, and Lester Filcher, of Columbia, S. C. There was a reception at the Pochanolas Hotel and later Lt. and Mrs. Webb left for a Northern wedding trip. They will reside in Alexandria, La., where Lt. Webb is stationed at Camp Claiborne.

Theater Previews

Friday and Saturday, February 4th and 5th, "HIS BUTLER'S SISTER," will be seen on the screen of the Bayne Theatre. Deanna Durbin, Franchot Tone, Pat O'Brien and Akim Tamiroff will play the title roles. This is Deanna Durbin exciting again, daring again and in love again.

The story is that of a small town girl who goes to New York to visit her brother, who is a butler, and finds that her brother's boss has fallen love with her. Some of the unique comedy situations injected into the plot promise to make "His Butler's Sister" one of the year's most hilarious pictures. Frank Borzage directed the film which was produced by Felix Jackson.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Alice Faye, Carmen Miranda, Phil Baker and Eugene Pallette, will be presented in "THE GANG'S ALL HERE." This is a swifty, colorful musical with plenty of romance, plus 100 beautiful girls in an unusual array of dance steps and color. Benny Goodman and his orchestra furnish the music for this 20th Century Fox production in Technicolor.

Wednesday and Thursday, "THOUSANDS CHEER," starring Gene Kelly, Kathryn Grayson, Mary Astor and John Boles will be the offering. A gay musical, photographed in glorious Technicolor, an appealing love story of an Army private in love with the Colonel's daughter, topped off with one of the greatest displays of screen stars ever filmed in one picture make Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Thousands Cheer," one of the must-see of the year.

Kathryn Grayson is seen as a charming young concert singer who leaves her job as soloist with Jose Turbi's orchestra to do morale work at her father's camp.

John Boles does credit to the role of Colonel Jones as the bewilderment of father suddenly meeting with a charming grown-up daughter. Many of his difficulties stem from the fact that Gene Kelly, the camp's problem boy solves his difficulties when he and Kathryn fall in love, much to the despair of Boles and mother, Mary Astor.

"SON OF DRACULA," starring Robert Paige, Louise Allbritton, Evelyn Ankers and Lon Chaney, will open the entertainment at the Roland Theatre on Friday and Saturday, February 4th and 5th.

"ALASKA HIGHWAY" will follow on Sunday and Monday. The stars of this production will be Jean Parker, Richard Arlen, Bill Henry and Ralph Sanford. There will be a double feature with the added attraction of Johnny Mac Brown in "RAIDERS OF THE BORDER."

Tue-day, Wednesday and Thursday there will be a pleasant musical comedy, "HI YA, SAILOR," Donald Woods, Elyse Knox and Eddie Quillan will be co-starred. This is a pleasant musical with most of the action being done in a night club. The added attraction will be a Western, Russell Hayden in "FRONTIER LAW."

FAT SALVAGE SURVEY SHOWS SMALL SAVINGS NEGLECTED

All Pan Scrapings Are Vital to War Effort

"Wars are fought with gunpowder. Gunpowder is made from glycerine. Glycerine can only be made from fats."

"Behind those few words lies one of your country's most serious needs. Fats used to be imported in huge quantities from islands of the Far East. Those islands are now in enemy hands. And the government wants the used fats you can save in your kitchen to make mountains of ammunition, and other battlefield needs."

The saving of left-over kitchen fats is one of the housewives' most important contributions to winning the war. It is a day-by-day, tablespoon-by-tablespoon job to obtain the glycerine-bearing fat needed for munitions and medicines.

Women are willing to cooperate but still do not realize the possibilities of the tremendous amount of salvage in their own kitchens; they do not consider how important a few drops at a time can be. Also there are many who feel that dirty, smelly grease has no value and hate to take it to a dealer. Every drop of this may be salvaged and mu. salvaged in order to raise the 230,000,000 pounds needed for the war effort.

The meat dealer will weigh both the can and the fat. To determine the weight of the fat, he must subtract the weight of the can. The weight of the various sizes of tin cans is:

- Size 1, the typical soup can, holds 10 ounces and weighs 2.2 ounces.
- Size 1-1-2 can, such as used for dog food, holds 16 ounces and weighs 2.7 ounces.
- Size 2 can, standard for tomatoes, holds 20 ounces and weighs 3.6 ounces.
- Size 2-1-2, tomato or fruit can, holds 28 ounces and weighs 4.5 ounces.
- Size 3, quart can for fruit or vegetables, weighs 5.3 ounces.
- Size 4 can, used for vegetable or fruit juices, holds 48 to 50 ounces.

There are nearly 17,000 Fat

Salvage Committees in the United States. In case of any question, a woman should consult her nearest committee or her local War Price Board.

IT PAYS TO SAVE FATS. It pays you four cents a pound. It pays you extra ration points.

Food Outlook for February Good

Butter and Cheese Still on the Scarce List

Civilian food supplies will be ample in February although some items continue in the "hard to get" classification, a survey by the nation's largest food distributor revealed recently.

Predictions gathered from more than 140 field buying offices of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company indicate that for the next month fresh fruits, fish, eggs and smoked meats are the commodities which in general will be plentiful throughout the country. Items listed as scarce include corn-fed beef, poultry, veal, butter and cheese. The survey indicates that housewives will find plenty of potatoes, cauliflower, lettuce, celery and broccoli while only a fair supply of turnips, carrots and cabbage. Onions will continue scarce. All citrus fruits, particularly oranges, as well as avocados are expected to be abundant while short supplies of pears, apples and strawberries are indicated.

Liberal quantities of smoked meats, eggs and fish are predicted but veal, beef and poultry will fall below the demand. Butter and cheese will continue critically short in supply.

WAR BONDS will preserve and protect the American Way.

ITS IN THE AIR. You can feel it, every time the Axis is struck. This is the last year, the year of decision. In history, 1944 will be the big year of the war—every stroke for victory counts more now. That's why it's vitally important for every American to beat his post, doing his part right now. You, personally, have an important job in winning the war—buying War Bonds. It's not glamorous—no, not even a sacrifice, really, because you are only lending your money, to be returned with interest. But it is essential to complete victory. Your part in this year of decision is at least one extra $100 Bond, above your regular Bond buying. That is your minimum individual quota. But don't stop there. Remember wars are won only by all-out effort. So buy $200, $500, $1000 worth—buy more than you can afford. And buy your Bonds where you work—at the plant or at the office. Your country is counting on you—let's make the year of decision OUR year!

REVELATION
I knelt to pray when day was done,
I prayed, "O Lord, bless every-one."
Lift from each saddened heart the pain,
And let the sick be well again.
And then I awoke another day
And carelessly went on my way.
The whole day long I did not try
To wipe a tear from any eye;
I did not share the load
Of any brother-on my road;
I did not even go see
The sick man just next door to me.

Yet once again when day was done
I prayed, "O Lord, bless every-one."
But as I prayed, into my ear
There came a voice that whispered clear:
"Pause, hypocrite, before you pray
Who have you tried to bless to-day?
God's sweetest blessings always go
By hands that serve Him here below."
And then I hid my face and cried,
"Forgive me, God, for I have

What we can do is patriotically little. If all of us put every cent we own in War Bonds, it would still be only the humblest gesture to the boys who are doing the fighting, the suffering, the dying.

THE AVERAGE AMERICAN FAMILY

STATISTICS are tricky things to toss around.

Obviously, 3/4 of a bathtub wouldn't hold water very well! That figure means merely that some 3 out of 5 American homes have bathtubs.

Obviously, also, the electric figure applies only to homes that have electric service (about 4 out of 5). But as a nation-wide average of all those homes, it is a fact—and surprising to many people.

Most families own more electric appliances now than they did in 1929. Over the years, as they used more electricity, they earned lower rates—and the rates, too, were steadily reduced.

So—though your bill today may be as much as it was in 1929—or even more—you're getting twice as much for what you pay. And remember that the price of electricity has stayed down while most other prices are going up.

That makes it just about the biggest bargain in your war-time budget!

For this you can credit the electric companies, manned and managed by practical business people. Their hard work has made electric service dependable and cheap.

Town and Farm In Wartime

AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH DEVELOPMENTS

In previous research results that have come out of the laboratories, field plots, and experimental kitchens of the Department of Agriculture include the release in a single year of 35 new varieties of strains of crop plants, stepping up production of penicillin, developing method by which sheep can dose themselves for intestinal worms by taking worm medicine in their salt, curing Cheddar cheese in half the time previously required, revolutionizing ways of fighting insect scourges, and developing recipes so that new soybean products may be used to supplement scarcer foods.

RECORD EGG CROP EXPECTED

Three out of every four eggs to be produced in 1944 have been allocated to civilians, the War Food Administration announced. An anticipated supply of eggs this year, possibly exceeding 61 billion, is based on the potential production of the greatest number of laying hens on record in the United States.

FARM MACHINERY PRODUCTION

Farm machinery production for the year beginning July 1, will be about the same as for the current year, but the War Production Administration has announced that the recent schedule issued may be altered any time should circumstances demand such action. More than one million tons of carbon steel production is now tentatively earmarked for the American farmer.

CONSIDER USE OF WAR PRISONERS

Possibility of using prisoners of war in farming and industry in U. S. areas where free labor is not available, have been studied by representatives of WAC and the War Department. Limited use of prisoners on farms was begun last summer. The employer is required to pay the wage prevailing in his community, and the prisoner gets credit of 80 cents a day for personal expenses, the remainder going to the Government for camp maintenance.

VALENTINE PARTY AT U. S. O.

In the spirit of the day a Valentine party will be held at the U. S. O. Club on Wednesday evening, February 16. The hall will be decorated with valentine colors. Elaborate refreshments and lots of girls are expected to add to the gala atmosphere. Once again the WRENS will be hostesses and the music will be furnished by a band from one of the near-by camps.

Square Dance Club Organized
The old Square Dance is coming into its own once again and a club has been formed to teach those who want to learn. Each Monday evening the club will meet. A real "old timer" will be there to lead the dance and instruct the dancers, and Mrs. Forbes, of Norfolk, will call the figures.

Be Smart to Be a Junior Hostess
Not only is it smart to be a hostess but there is a definite art in it. Why let Norfolk get ahead of Virginia Beach? It is understood that for the local dance hostesses have to be imported from Norfolk to do the job that junior hostesses from the Beach are perfectly capable of doing, but lack the will to be of real service to their local organization. In Norfolk the thought of being a junior hostess is thought of as such importance that classes are being conducted for the girls who are willing to give their time and talents to help entertain a man in uniform for a few hours each week. The Virginia Beach USO needs all the local girls. Don't let your community club have to go to Norfolk for girls to do your job.

New Assistant Director at U.S.O.

Mr. R. O. Tulloch, formerly assistant director of the N. C. S. unit; Petersburg U. S. O. club, has been transferred recently to the local U. S. O. club as assistant to Mr. John Plantamura.

Mr. Tulloch, prior to his connection with the U. S. O. was director of Home Mission, Inc., at Chattanooga, Tenn., in charge of Rehabilitation of Juvenile Delinquents.

He has been in Social Relief Work for the past 30 years; serving in 1912, at the Syrian Mission in Boston, Mass.; in 1927 at the old St. Bartholomew's Parish House in New York City, and since 1938 organizer and campaign director of the Rehabilitation Program in Chattanooga.

MINUTE MAN FLAG HERE—This is the new Minute Man War Bond Flag, designed by the Treasury Department for firms and organizations which obtain more than 50 percent participation in War Savings Bonds purchases by their employees or members through a systematic purchase plan. The Minute Man is embossed in white on a blue background, surrounded by thirteen stars, representing the Nation's thirteen founding States. When companies, labor unions, and other organizations top the 50 percent figure, they will receive a special Minute Man Certificate of Award signed by Secretary Morgenthau, the State Administrator, and the State Chairman of the War Savings Board, the Treasury Department announced. This certificate entitles the recipient to fly the flag, which is being manufactured in various sizes and is sold by licensed suppliers at a nominal price.

Failure in Obligation to Buy Bonds May Cost a Life

$232,467 Reported to Date for Princess Anne County Bond Sales

The Fourth War Loan Drive is on the last lap, and there is every indication that the goal will be reached. The goal of 14 billion dollars for the Country, and $425,000 for Princess Anne County.

Teams and individuals are spurring their activities in order that Princess Anne County will not fall short of the mark. To date $232,467 has been turned in towards the goal—a little over half. The Red Cross trailer and the booth in the Bayne Theater lobby, under the auspices of the Eastern Star will continue to operate through the 15th.

The Boy Scouts are giving valuable assistance in an effort to top the goal. They are soliciting individual pledges—they do not accept the money—for bonds to be purchased at the convenience of the pledgee. As always the Scout is ready to serve.

From Senator Carter Glass comes an urgent message to the State to be conscious of our great obligation and to fulfill this obligation.

James M. Jordan Dies at Home of Daughter

Interment in Elmwood Cemetery
James M. Jordan, 83, husband of Mrs. Charlotte Irvine Jordan and the son of the late Arthur S. and Mrs. Margaret Perry Jordan, a native of Gates County, N. C., and a resident of Norfolk and Virginia Beach for the past 55 years, died at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of his son, Arthur S. Jordan and Mrs. Jordan, on Ho's Road, where he had been living for some time.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Charlotte Irvine Jordan, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. J. E. Timberlake, Jr., and three sons, James M. Jordan, Jr., Col. Walter Irvine Jordan, U.S.M.C., and Arthur S. Jordan, and seven grandchildren.

Services were conducted at the chapel of the H. D. Oliver Funeral Apartments Wednesday at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Stiles B. Lines, rector of Galilee Episcopal Church, and the Rev. Reginald Eastman, of Gloucester, Va., officiating. Interment was private in Elmwood Cemetery.

"Laying aside for the moment the terrific expenditure in flesh and blood—our own beloved flesh and blood—I wonder if the most of us realize how much it takes in dollars and cents to accomplish any one of these three triumphal mile stones on the way to victory. Of course, we know that the war cost us $114,000,000,000 in 1943 and we know that ninety-five cents out of every dollar now being collected by the Federal Government goes to war expenditures, but these figures are so vast that to many they are simply incomprehensible and far removed from the realism of everyday life.

"Even at that, there can scarcely be any one of us who does not now realize that war on such a gigantic scale requires every penny every one of us can raise beyond the simplest and most frugal way of living, to be put in War Bonds for the government's use. If in some way it could be brought home to the average American who has surplus income that his failure to meet this obligation might very well mean that some loved one of his own, a son, or nephew, or grandson, or his neighbor's boy, might have to go into battle without a sufficient number of tanks, planes and guns, or without sufficient reinforcements because of a lack of ships, I believe there would be such a rush to the Bond windows that the Treasury Department would be literally swamped.

"It is the difficulty of bringing home to a busy and preoccupied people the personal equation involved that makes it necessary for artificial stimulants to be administered to raise money for the government and yet my fellow countrymen, that personal equation is there. If we fail to realize it in time, we may expect to be haunted to our dying day by the specter of an American boy, perhaps one very close to us, whose life is needlessly sacrificed on the field of battle because we failed to do our simple duty."

On an island in the Solomonas area the Seabees carved an airstrip out of the dense jungle in 13 days, during which 16 1-2 in. of rain fell—equal to six months' precipitation in most Middle Western States.

Case of Independent Cab Co. Goes to Supreme Court

60-Day Injunction Permits Operation of Cabs at Beach

The case of Hazel O. Hankins and C. T. Marois, operators of the Independent Taxicab Co., has gone to the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals to be reviewed on March 15. For some weeks there has been the debate as to whether by law a town council permit for operating taxicabs is a personal privilege or transferable under law.

In December, Judge Lawrence Tannon, sitting for Judge B. D. White in the Princess Anne Circuit Court in Portsmouth, heard the petition by the Town of Virginia Beach to dissolve the temporary injunction involving Hazel O. Hankins and C. T. Marois, trading as the Independent Taxicab Company, restraining the plaintiff from interfering with the operation of the firm's cabs—said company having been ordered by the Virginia Beach chief of police to remove all company cabs from the streets of Virginia Beach. A temporary injunction was granted for 60 days, pending further hearings.

On March 15 the case will go before the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals and until a final decision is handed down the Independent Taxicab Company will continue to operate.

Women's Army Corps Seeks Recruits at Beach

Headquarters in Chamber of Commerce—Lt. Rumold in Charge of Enlistments

Lt. Emily Rumold, of the Norfolk District of the WAC, addressed the Council presenting plans for the intensive drive for recruits for the organization in Virginia Beach, and solicited the cooperation of Mayor Elliott, Council members and citizens of the community. Further plans and resolutions for additional "clean-up" work were made after which there was a motion for adjournment.

A recent ruling by the War Department allows the privilege of selecting the location of the base at which she would like to serve, thereby enabling her to select a base near her home. Another added feature is the opportunity afforded to travel in many parts of this country as well as to foreign posts. Norfolk is the induction center for this district and from there the recruit is sent to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., for 8-weeks of basic training.

Enlistment is being accepted in the Army Service Force, the Army Air Force, the Armed Ground Force, and the Transportation Corps. According to Lt. Rumold the main objective of the WAC is the great need for qualified women to relieve the men who are ready for combat service. Thousands of women are needed and the call is urgent. Besides the above mentioned branches there are many opportunities open in all phases of medical assistance, laboratory work and physical therapy. For those who qualify a commission is given.

Town Council Votes Additional $5,000 Spent on Walkway

Farrar & Forbes to Continue Repairs South of 12th Street

At a meeting of the Town Council on Monday, February 7, the chief business on the slate was the signing of an additional contract for repair work to the concrete walkway south of 12th Street. This contract calls for an additional expenditure of $5,000, above the $20,000 contract given to Farrar and Forbes several weeks ago. Since the original contract the sea has made further inroads on the sea wall and land necessitating added strips of fill and concrete work. The work will be done as the weather permits, by the firm of Farrar & Forbes.

The town engineer was instructed to look into the serious drainage problems of areas around 17th Street and in the Northern end of town where after a heavy rain the streets are impassable for pedestrians, due to low elevation and poor drainage. The findings to be reported at a later meeting.

Lt. Emily Rumold, of the Norfolk District of the WAC, addressed the Council presenting plans for the intensive drive for recruits for the organization in Virginia Beach, and solicited the cooperation of Mayor Elliott, Council members and citizens of the community. Further plans and resolutions for additional "clean-up" work were made after which there was a motion for adjournment.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

TO READERS OF THE "NEWS"

To those of you who read the Virginia Beach News, possibly with a critical editorial eye and mind, an explanation, perhaps is due. This paper is being published under real difficulties—without an editor and other help which is needed for the make-up of a country newspaper. We have been unable to employ anyone to take the place of the editor who is now in government service, and at this time there seems to be no one on the immediate horizon to take his place.

Having this condition in mind there are several things which we would like to ask of anyone and everyone having matter for publication.

1. Get your news item in early, the sooner the better;
2. Write it yourself, if possible. There is no secret about the art of newspaper writing. Just tell it as it happened. Use type-written if convenient, and write only on one side of the paper;

3. Condense your story by eliminating all non-essentials, using plain, straight-forward language. Be extremely careful with initials, proper names and names of places. Above all else remember that the story of the creation in the words of the Bible was told in less than 500 words. Surely, no local event should need more words to describe than the world-rocking story in the book of Genesis.

We are endeavoring to keep the "News" a community newspaper but with talent, time and funds lacking we have a real problem on our hands for getting county news. If you have it, won't you pass it along? Telephone it in to the "News" office if not convenient to bring it in. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

Should your paper reach you a day or two late be assured that the cause is beyond our control.

"OUR FORCES WERE SUCCESSFUL"

(By Rev. Robert W. Searle, D. D., General Secretary Greater New York Federation of Churches.) Those thrilling words have come to us again and again from various battle areas. They carry the sort of message that gives a lift to the heart with its augury of ultimate and complete victory.

Many of us, because we have relatives of our own in the service, seek immediately to discover the cost of each success in human terms. How many killed? How many wounded? What were our total casualties? We know that victory demands its price in courage, in suffering, and in sacrificial death.

Having noted the success and counted its cost we then return to the full reading of the message. But in that reading how many of us catch the fundamental lesson that is emphasized each time?

One word is regular in its recurrence. It is the word "coordination." "The coordination of sea forces, air forces, and ground troops," "the coordination of combat units and services of supply," "the coordination of free French, British, and Americans," "United Nation coordination," each success is dependent upon coordination and without coordination there can be no victory. Every military leader knows that and in a general way, every one of us understands the fact with regard to military efforts. What we do not understand is that the word "coordination" is not just the key to winning war—it is also the only key to winning the peace that will follow. Twenty-five years ago we won a war through coordination of the French, the British, and the Americans into one working unit. Almost from the moment on November 11 when the firing ceased we began to throw the victory away. Unity and coordination disintegrated into anarchy and chaos. As a consequence, at this very moment the sons of the men who won "the war to end war" are fighting in a more vast and terrible war. Now if their sons are to be spared an even more arduous ordeal twenty-five years hence, you and I have got to dedicate ourselves to the building of a coordinated world.

Let us cherish as our measuring rod for all national and international policies in the years that lie ahead the words of General Eisenhower spoken in the hour of the great Tunisian victory—"Through unity the forces of freedom will bring forth from this war a triumphal peace."

Will that phrase last? It will only if we build the new world on the principle of coordination.

Theater Previews

"THOUSANDS CHEER" the spectacular musical in technicolor, starring Kathryn Grayson, Gene Kelly, Mary Astor and John Boles will continue on the screen at the Bayne Theatre Friday and Saturday, February 11th and 12th. Jose Turbi's orchestra will furnish a bit of musical color.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Betty Field, Charles Boyer, Edward G. Robinson and Barbara Stanwyck will be featured in "FLESH AND FANTASY." This is lauded as one of the most gripping motion pictures ever to come from Hollywood. The extraordinary new picture is totally unlike any previous screen venture. It has an element of novel, striking surprise which, in itself, is gripping entertainment. While the story, or stories, it tells will be remembered as amazingly and dramatically thrilling.

Many noted stars appear in vivid roles as the multiple plot unfolds.

The picture for Wednesday and Thursday will be "THE OKLAHOMA KID" with James Cagney, Humphrey Bogart, Don "Crisp and Rosemary Lane cast in the title roles. James Cagney plays the role of a dashing young outlaw, a young Robinhood, who steals from the rich and gives to the poor. He leads a happy-go-lucky existence until he is informed of the death of his father at the hands of a vicious gang headed by Whip McCord (Humphrey Bogart), a notorious gambler. Intent upon revenge, he tracks down the culprits, shoots out with McCord, and settles down to a respectable existence.

At the Roland, the entertainment for the week will open with "YOU'RE A LUCKY FELLOW, MR. SMITH," on Friday and Saturday. Allan Jones, Evelyn Ankers, Billie Burke and David Bruce will be starred in the production.

"GILDERSLEEVE ON BROADWAY" will be seen on Sunday and Monday. Harold Peary, Billy Burke, Claire Carleton and Richard LeGrand in the title roles. Harold (Gildersleeve) Peary brings his infectious laugh to the screen in another fast action comedy. This time the role of a comedian plays Romeo to a husband-hunting widow and a high-powered gold digger, in an innocent attempt to save his friend's business and his niece's happiness. Here is spontaneous comedy that explodes like a bombshell as it follows Gildersleeve through his many romantic escapades. Harold Peary, whose Gildersleeve characterization on the air and on the screen has won him fans in the millions, again enacts his role of the good Samaritan who is always getting himself into trouble. He is ably supported by Billy Burke, as the sandy widow in search of a husband, Claire Carleton, Richard LeGrand (Mr. Peavey of radio fame), and Freddie Mercer. It is a great laugh treat for everyone!

There will be an added attraction, Roy Rogers in "THE MAN FROM MUSIC MOUNTAIN."

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Tom Conway, Jean Brooks, Rita Corday and Aelia Ward will be co-starred in "THE FALCON AND THE CO-EDS."

SYMBOL OF DEMOCRACY

A series of articles on the General Assembly of Virginia

(By Frances Leigh Williams)

LEGISLATURE VIEWS FUTURE OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Decisions affecting the health of Virginia will be made by the General Assembly before the 1944 session ends. The need for greater emphasis on public health work has been brought to the attention of legislators and average citizen alike through the high percentage of Virginians rejected in the draft because of health disabilities. The physical examination for the draft revealed that 22 percent of the young men of the state were below the Army's minimum standards for combatants and a further small percentage were only able to go into "Limited Service." The legislators are also aware of the man-hours lost to the all-out industrial production battle on the home front through the ravages of venereal diseases, tuberculosis, cancer, occupational diseases, influenza, the common cold and other prevalent diseases. In studying proposed health legislation the lawmakers also remember that much of the state's future is dependent upon the health of our children.

Governor Darden recommended to the Assembly that an adequate program be developed to combat the distressing spread of venereal disease among both juveniles and adults. He urged financial provision for the enlargement of the Industrial Farm for Women as necessary in addition to the establishment of local treatment centers set up in collaboration with the United States Public Health Service. An educational campaign to inform the citizenry of the state was planned last week in Richmond by the Virginia Council of Social Hygiene. The president of this recently formed council stated that "Venereal disease annually costs the state more in man-hours lost and medical treatment, not to mention the tragedy of human wreckage, than all our highways or education."

Industrial health will come in for its share of legislative attention when the proposal to extend industrial insurance to cover occupational disease comes before the Assembly.

Tuberculosis, long high on Virginia's list of health enemies, will receive attention from the Legislature when the question comes up of increased pay for personnel in the State's sanatoria. These institutions, three for white patients and one for Negroes, represent an investment of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. Their efficiency has been greatly decreased by the difficulty of retaining personnel under the present salary schedule. The Assembly also has before it the Governor's proposal that Piedmont Sanatorium, the state's institution for the treatment of Negroes afflicted with tuberculosis, be placed under a Negro staff. In his recommendation Governor Darden stated, "There is great need for Negro nurses and Negro doctors to help in checking the ravages of tuberculosis among the Negro people where the death rate is four times as great as it is among the whites. These people can be trained at Piedmont. Funds for capital improvements in the sanatoria were included in the state budget laid before the General Assembly."

Many are the needs today, Virginians can only be grateful for the advances made in the field of public health in the last ten years. Today fifty-one of Virginia's counties, or approximately 68 percent of the rural population, are served by their own or district health departments. In 1934 only sixteen counties were so served with no county health department west of Roanoke. In addition to the county departments there are now branch offices of the State Department of Health at Abingdon to care for the Southwestern part of the state and one at Norfolk where special aid is given in malaria control, venereal disease control, shellfish sanitation and other activities closely related to the war emergency.

In the important field of Industrial Hygiene there is now a special Bureau which in addition to detailed studies in industrial plants provides consultation service in the diagnosis of occupational and general diseases and advice as to the best methods for the prevention and control of such diseases. This Bureau is increasingly being consulted by industrialists and through its preventive work keeps men on the production front.

Last year the State Department of Health held 158 maternal and child health clinics—ten years ago there was not one such clinic. Other great advances in this field include a much needed program of hospitalization of patients from rural areas. The Crippled Children's Bureau and that of Communicable Diseases have also been established in the last decade.

Many Virginians are now at work, who otherwise would not be there, because x-rays made by one of the three mobile units revealed tuberculosis in its early stage and they sought prompt treatment and cure. The tremendous increase of Virginia's population due to war industries and military establishments has made the work of Sanitary Engineering more important than ever with special emphasis on public water supplies, sewerage and food inspection.

'There Will Be Enough Fertilizer IF.....

YOUR Southern States fertilizer plants will be able to manufacture enough fertilizer for all 1944 crop needs of members who purchased fertilizer last year, provided the fertilizer can be kept moving from the plants to Service Agencies and on to farms during the winter months. Here's how you can help:

1. PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW with your Southern States Cooperative Service Agency for delivery as soon as possible.

2. TAKE IMMEDIATE DELIVERY. Pick up bags of fertilizer in the barn on a low platform made of two-by-fours and old lumber.

3. STORE FERTILIZER IN A DRY PLACE. A little hay placed over and under the bags will help keep the fertilizer dry and in good mechanical condition.

4. FOLLOW THIS PLAN NOW—and when planting time comes next spring your fertilizer will be in the barn—ready to use when you need it.

Town and Farm In Wartime

AUTOS, BICYCLES, TIRES, GASOLINE

February quota of new passenger automobiles is 10,000, two-thirds of the January quota, and of new bicycles is 7,500, one-half the January quota, the Office of Price Administration has announced. Except for a decrease of approximately one fourth in the number of used and reclaimed (Grade III, passenger tires, February quotas for tires and tubes are about the same as for January. Essential truck operators in areas where tire recapping facilities are inadequate or unavailable may obtain a ration certificate permitting them to exchange with dealers a tire which needs recapping for a used tire or a new "war" tire. Automobile drivers hereafter will find that purpose for which they drive, rather than the distance they drive, will determine their eligibility for tires. Motorists may now use indelible pencil as well as ink to write their license numbers and state of registration on each gasoline coupon. Motorists must now present their tire inspection records when applying for special gasoline rations.

LABOR NEEDS OF AGRICULTURE

The largest single increase in total labor requirements is the seasonal demand in agriculture, according to a recent War Manpower Commission survey of the nation's manpower needs for the first half of 1944. Between January and July about 3.4 million persons will be needed for farm employment. The bulk of this labor will be supplied by women and young persons.

EASE RESTRICTIONS ON PLUMBING

Consumers who wish to buy plumbing, cooking, and heating equipment in most cases no longer need authorization from WPB. Some of the items which need no priority ratings are: bathtubs, lavatories, toilets, laundry trays, sinks, showers, shower stalls, condensed pumps, chemical toilets, drinking fountain, cetic tanks, grease interceptors, flush tanks, scullery sinks, and wash fountains. Unrationed cooking and heating stoves also may be purchased without WPB authorization.

WE LOOK ALL-WAYS FROM CROSSING

Look Both Ways AAA February Safety Poster

Importance of looking all ways at intersections before crossing the street, being especially alert for turning cars, is emphasized in the AAA school safety poster for February, being distributed to schools of Virginia by the Tidewater Automobile Association.

Through traffic fatalities dropped last year from a total of 28,200 in 1942 to approximately 24,000 in 1943, pedestrian fatalities did not drop in proportion, according to Mr. John B. Dey, Vice President of the Tidewater Automobile Association.

"Last year, pedestrian fatalities were nearly one-half of the traffic fatalities in the country," Mr. Dey said. "For several years before the war started, pedestrian fatalities constituted about two-fifths of all fatalities, but the greater amount of walking, especially at night, and unfamiliarity of both children and adults with new surroundings caused by war plant employment, has raised the ratio of pedestrian to non-pedestrian fatalities."

"The new poster is one of the AAA WE WORK FOR VICTORY, TOO, series of posters presented this year by the Club as a part of its civic safety program. Each poster pictures children making their own contribution to the war effort, at the same time practicing a safe walking rule. Thousands of children, as depicted in the poster, have been engaged in the collection of scrap, waste paper, etc."

Noted Preachers Secured for Galilee Lenten Services

Chaplain Hodgkins to Make Address Ash Wednesday

Galilee Episcopal Church will have an intensive and interesting program of worship during Lent, the forty days of preparation for the remembrance of the passion and resurrection of Jesus Christ. The series of Wednesday evening services with special preachers should be of interest to many people of all denominations at Virginia Beach. Commander Henry Bell Hodgkins, USNR, chaplain of the Norfolk Navy Yard at Portsmouth, and rector of Christ Church, Pensacola, Fla., will start the series with an address at 7:45 on Ash Wednesday, February 23. Chaplain Hodgkins returned last year from a tour of duty in Iceland, and now has the spiritual oversight of the thousands of men at the navy yard.

Other speakers already scheduled for the Wednesday evening services include Bishop William A. Brown, the Rev. Louis A. Haskell, of Suffolk, the Rev. Moulde Guerry, of Old St. Paul's Church, Norfolk, and the Rev. Sparks Melton, of Freemason St. Baptist Church. Everyone is invited to attend these services.

On Thursday afternoon, February 24, at 4:15, the series of services for children will begin. The Junior Choir will sing, and the topic of study will be "All God's Children," the story of American missions.

On the morning of Ash Wednesday, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 10:30 A. M. In the following weeks this service will be at 10:30 each Tuesday during Lent, and will be followed by the Lenten study class for adults.

Sunday services will continue as usual, at 8, 9:30, and 11 A. M. There will be no 8 o'clock service this Sunday, however, due to the rector's absence.

THE MONTH OF MARCH has been set aside as 4-H Mobilization Month in Virginia. 4-H Club boys and girls have been requested to bring at least one new member to their March club meeting.

H. W. Ozlin Named Head of Farmer Groups

A complete organization of farmer committees to handle various phases of farm labor problems in 17 Southern Virginia counties will be headed by H. W. Ozlin, Princess Anne county farm agent. It was announced by W. H. Daugherty, district farm supervisor.

Purpose of the committees will be to cope with seasonal problems such as camps, Women's Land Army, wages, etc. Formation of this committee was one of the major accomplishments of a 3-day conference of county farm and home demonstration agents from the 17 counties, which closed Friday afternoon at the Pine-wood Hotel, Virginia Beach. The meeting was conducted by Mr. Daugherty and Miss Helen Ricks.

More training through county work by specialists from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute in technical problems of farming and homemaking was requested by the agents. They expressed the thought that the neighborhood leader system should be carefully adapted to local conditions and that meetings of leaders by communities should be held frequently enough to keep them—and their neighbors—well-informed on ways of meeting war time problems, including production.

The suggestion was made that each county take steps immediately to compile an evaluation of 4-H club work, and take necessary steps to make this form of self-education among rural youth more effective. It was agreed that, for the present, projects should be confined to war-time needs.

Although it was agreed that the 4-H program should be directed toward projects in which the best known farming and home-making methods are employed, there was argument as to whether club work should be conducted through clubs formed in public schools, or those organized on a community basis.

The conference opened at the Pinewood Wednesday, Feb. 9, with a talk by Director John R. Hutchison, of Blacksburg, head of the extension service in Virginia, in which he outlined the educational job among farm people that extension has "long been charged with." He told the gathering that "the ultimate aim of our work is to help the farmer do a better job and raise his standard of living."

Committees appointed Wednesday morning worked two days on problems assigned them, and made reports on Friday.

Nazi Ships Sunk In South Atlantic

J. C. Parham, Jr., Commander of the Joutet Active in Raid

Several days ago the story was released by Associated Press of the sinking of Nazi blockade ships in the South Atlantic, by the blasting guns of American warships. Many tons of cargo were salvaged from the three vessels and prisoners taken. One of the ships participating in the sinking was the Joutet, skippered by Comdr. John C. Parham, Jr., whose wife, the former Miss Honnie Barco, makes her home at Virginia Beach.

Comdr. Parham was born in Tuscaloosa, Alabama; was graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1931, and was married several months later. He made his home in Norfolk and Virginia Beach. The Joutet last summer was credited with the destruction of a German submarine in the Atlantic.

Comdr. Parham received the Legion Award of Merit about three months ago.

Bond Drive Nets $411,000 at Official Close of Drive

Credit for Sale of E. F. G. and C Bonds to Be Extended Until February 29

Local Organizations Make Splendid Report in Man-Hours and Money

Although the Fourth War Loan Campaign came to a close officially on Tuesday, February 15, the War Finance Committee in Richmond stressed that sales of EFG and C Series Bonds reported to the Federal Reserve Bank before the close of business February 29, will count in the drive. In this way the committee in charge of the drive in Princess Anne County feels confident of reaching the $425,000 goal.

At the close of business hours on February 15, $14,000 were lacking to reach the allotted quota.

The total reported to date for the county being $411,000. Numerous counties and cities in Virginia made their total quota, but comparatively few exceeded their E. Bond goals. The additional time will enable more communities to go over the top, thereby helping Virginia as a whole, to meet most of its quotas.

Local Organizations 100 %
To the organizations in the community which have rendered such wholehearted co-operation and to individuals who have given so unstintingly of their time, the members of the committee wish to express deep appreciation.

The Princess Anne Garden Club turned in $16,250 in Bonds.

Thirteen ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star gave 196 hours at the booth in the lobby of the Bayne Theater, selling $284.00 worth of stamps and 149 bonds, amounting to $28,225.

The ladies of the Red Cross Motor Corps gave a total 180 hours and turned in to the fund $15,000. The Boy Scouts did an excellent bit of work securing pledges for the purchase of bonds. The Woman's Club, the Lions and the Rotarians have given liberally of their time and efforts in order to reach the goal.

Princess Anne County has never fallen short of any attempted goal and there is every reason to believe that when all reports are turned in the amount will exceed

Annual Red Cross Drive March 1-31

Gives Aid to 35 Million War Victims

In this war as in no other, the American Red Cross is called upon to play a many-sided role. It must recruit a vast corps of trained nurses for service with the Army and Navy. But in addition to this important service, the Red Cross must train and send out to the field a variety of workers, each equipped to do a specific job for the welfare of men in the service.

Field directors and their assistants, club directors and their assistants, hospital recreation and social workers and their staffs—trained men and women of courage and energy! It is their task to look after the mental, recreational and personal well-being of the men. They are trained at the Red Cross "university" in Washington where some weeks ago the ten thousand trainees graduated.

Of the ten thousand who have completed the course a man-as-a proportion are even now serving on the active battle fronts. Others are at work in Army and Navy hospitals and clubs behind the lines. Yet others are permanently assigned to duty in camps and hospitals here in America. More of them, having completed the course at the school, are now gaining valuable experience in military and naval stations while awaiting their call.

The Army and Navy need these workers. The American Red Cross must supply them. The annual drive for membership in the American Red Cross will start on March 1, and continue until March 31.

War casualties have now reached the neighborhood of 150,000. The dead will soon be numbered 50,000, leaving 100,000 still and wounded to be cared for. One hundred thousand of our boys somewhere on foreign soil need blood transfusions and hospital nursing.

They need opportunities for (Continued on page four)

"THE VOICE of a majority swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

OUR MERCHANT MARINE

There is not a state in the Union but which contributes something to the American merchant marine and also derives some benefit from it. There also is not a state but which has given merchant marine lives to the constant operation of our merchant fleet during this emergency.

Our fleet is truly a national institution in all measures. It effects, directly or indirectly, every person in the United States. It helps the man who smily grows a small patch of cotton or tobacco each year; it helps the farmer raising foodstuffs on the plains. It is important to the cattle raiser, the workmen in an automobile factory, the lumberjack and the oil driller. It is likewise important to the fruit grower and even the small merchant who buys imported goods.

Thus, the American Merchant Marine knows no boundaries, neither within this country nor in the world. Our ships are a vital, living part of our own national economy and certainly of our security.

We think an adequate merchant marine should always be an integral part of American life.

OUR UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION

(By J. E. Jones)

In the early days of his administration, President Roosevelt asked Congress to help him reorganize the United States Supreme Court, in order to get rid of the "horse and buggy" methods. He failed to secure the approval of Congress, but he eventually succeeded in placing the Court in the hands of his own "liberals."

New Dealers Justice Black and Murphy have "gone to town" on the old Justice Brandeis for his opinions, which are characterized as "patently and wholly gratuitous assertion as to Constitutional law." The above is an incident that shows how the Court, as well as every one else, disagrees over the Constitution.

President Roosevelt in a message about soldiers' vote said that Congressional action about the soldiers' vote was a "fraud." Then the Federal ballot plan demanded by the President was distasteful to both branches of Congress, and called "unconstitutional."

In the proceedings the Congress and the White House have very plainly ignored the Constitution, because they made no provision whereby tens of thousands of members of the military forces and the civilian population of the District of Columbia could vote.

The principal involved in the soldiers' vote is identical in principle with the situation of the District of Columbia in which there is a population of nearly a million people being denied the right to vote.

Congress assumes to act as the "common council for the District of Columbia." This ridiculous and inefficient farce has been in operation for 70 years, and Washington has never accepted the challenge from Capitol Hill to seek a Constitutional amendment in order to regain franchise.

It is generally admitted that the passage of a law that would give the City of Washington the rights of Statehood would be accepted as final inasmuch as the Supreme Court rarely upsets such legislation when passed by Congress. The spirit of the Constitution and all the traditions of the nation upheld the theory of "Boston Tea Party" but "taxation without representation" is un-American.

A big question yet to be settled is whether the men and women from the District of Columbia who are in the military service will be permitted to vote. If they are then the case is half-won for the District of Columbia. It will be unconstitutional to withhold the vote from the District of Columbia members of the military forces, and if that is done the service men and women will come home and wipe out the bob-tailed Federal rule of the District of Columbia, where its million population does not elect a single officer.

Thus it may be seen that the Constitution of our country works only part-time. The Administration and Legislative branches of the Government push it aside, just about the same way that city and village trade and commercial groups and fraternal and church bodies ignore their "constitutions" when they interrupt the wishes of the majorities in those organizations.

Letters

To the Editor,
Virginia Beach News,
Virginia Beach, Va.

Dear Sir:

I respectfully request your indulgence for just a few moments, your co-operation, and some of your valuable space.

As a resident of Virginia Beach, appreciating all the finer things of life that are ours who live here and of those who visit with us, and wishing to see our Town always go forward, there is a much needed facility that must be added before we have all the protection which we should have. Most certainly, we need a Hospital.

We have a very fine group of doctors in our Town and County, but they are definitely handicapped in not having a Hospital in which to use their skills. Every hospitalization case must be taken a distance of almost twenty miles, and this means the loss of valuable time, and in emergencies this loss may mean the difference between life and death. In a community such as this there is no reason why our citizens and visitors should be exposed to this danger.

There is only one way for us to get a hospital and that is through subscriptions from public-spirited men and women, from enterprises, from our Town Council, and from the Supervisors of the County. I propose to contact several individuals who, I believe, would like to help create an interest in this matter and then to aid in the formation of an organization. I shall try to seek a helping hand too from our friends across the line in Norfolk for after all they should be willing to reciprocate our many good deeds. We spend a great deal of our money in Norfolk, do business with the Norfolk banks, contribute to the many drives staged in Norfolk. Seldom, if ever, have we asked for aid from our Metropolitan neighbor.

I shall indeed appreciate your co-operation. Publicity is the one thing needed to get what we want now—attention and interest.

Yours very sincerely,

A Much-Interested Citizen.

ASSEMBLY CONSIDERS MEASURES TO REDUCE JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Virginia legislators will soon turn their attention to measures designed to lessen juvenile delinquency in the State. One of the ablest documents presented to members of the 1944 Assembly is the report of the Virginia Advisory Legislative Council on Child Welfare. Their major "recommendations for immediate action" will probably be passed by the Assembly. A bill also designed to assist in reducing juvenile delinquency is one to amend the Code of Virginia to raise the age of compulsory school attendance from 15 to 16 and to provide further methods of enforcing attendance requirements. The Governor's budget bill, which was passed unanimously last week by the House of Delegates and now is in the hands of the Senate, contains appropriations for capital outlay to aid the rehabilitation of the youth which do reach Virginia's four industrial schools for boys and girls.

In Virginia, as elsewhere, enlightened procedure is to try to handle cases of delinquent children without recourse to courts and so statistics are difficult to compute accurately. But in Virginia's most war-torn city, Norfolk, juvenile delinquency has been reported as increased 265 per cent since hostilities. While such a figure may be exaggerated, legislators know that constituents everywhere are aroused on the subject. The Virginia Advisory Legislative Council in their report state, "The alarming increase in juvenile delinquency which has been reported in recent months by courts, school authorities, the police, recreation leaders, social case workers and the newspapers is a phenomenon not peculiar to Virginia. Nor is it a phenomenon which can be accounted for by the superficial explanation of 'effects of war.'"

The council's recommendations, aimed at clearing Virginia jails of juveniles and extending home-like training to potential juveniles, now drafted into bills for the Assembly's consideration, call for:

- (1) State assistance to localities in connection with the conduct of boarding home detention care instead of jail incarceration, case work, etc.
- (2) Establishment of two child-study centers adequately equipped to diagnose and treat physical, mental and emotional defects of the delinquent child while his case is being studied and diagnosed.
- (3) State aid to cities of more than 25,000 population in the administration of probation in collaboration with juvenile and domestic relations courts.
- (4) Expansion of the existing program of child care in foster families.

In diagnosis the council stated: "The psychological foundations of juvenile delinquency find their roots in maladjustments arising within family relationships, in inadequate or unsatisfactory work and recreational patterns and in family moral and ethical habits."

The youngsters representing St. Giles Youth Forum told of a Manifesto they had written over a period of five weeks of study and discussion of Juvenile Delinquency and signed in the presence of Judge J. Hoge Ricks, Judge of the Court of Juvenile and Domestic Relations in Richmond. They said they had: Resolved:

1. That we young people recognize that the problem is primarily one of youth itself. We refuse to put the entire blame on our parents, our schools or the general moral laxity of our age.
2. That we will here and now attack the problem of delinquency in our own lives, recognizing that dishonesty, impurity and selfishness are the root causes of this disease which, to a greater or lesser degree, is in every one of us.
3. That we will fight for honesty and dispense with stealing, cheating and lying in any form whatever. We will do our best to correct the mistakes and failures of the past, making full restitution wherever we can.
4. That we will fight to build sound Christian homes where the family care for one another to give their best. We will accept responsibility for keeping our home clean, efficient and creative.
5. That we will fight for the ideals on which our country was founded. We cannot build a sound America or a new world with skyscraper thinking and down-the-drain living. We will accept our moral standards from the New Testament and not from second-rate movies, magazines and juke boxes.
6. That we will fight for national unity where God is the Boss; an everyone works together under his orders. And so, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other, our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

The General Assembly will pass needed youth legislation and with the inspiration of youth like these Forum youngsters will themselves resolve to build anew in Virginia the sound home spirit which has never failed to produce sound youth in each generation.

The Outlook for SPRING SEED!

RED CLOVER—Supplies of seed adopted for this territory are about 40% short for the next planting season. Southern States patron-members are urged to purchase only anthracene-resistant seed. Southern States will furnish no other kind.

MAMMOTH CLOVER—Crop is about 10% short.

ALSKIE CLOVER—The shortest crop in the year. Supplies are down about 40%.

ALFALFA—Due to the feed shortage, many growers have used their fields for hay rather than seed. Although seed crops were short even with last year, there are no carry-over stocks to take care of increased demand.

SWEET CLOVER AND LESPEDEZA—Plentiful stocks of high quality seed will be available through Southern States.

TIMOTHY—A good growing season has resulted in good ground. There will be plenty to go around.

BLUE GRASS—Crops in Kentucky and most Blue Grass territory are short. Another limiting factor is a lack of strippers.

OATS—Seed of recommended varieties is seriously short.

Potato-members who have supplies of recommended varieties of oats on hand should save them for seed rather than use them for feed. They should be reseeded, however, to lower the weed content.

HOW TO RESPECT AND DISPLAY OUR FLAG

Even in wartime, how many Americans know how to respect and display our flag? How many of the youth of the nation of public school age know the story of the origin of our National Flag; the pledge to the Flag; and how properly to show respect for Old Glory? Look around at any casually assembled crowd watching the raising or lowering of the flag, ask a number of school children about their flag, and in both instances the results are startling and disheartening. Some do not know; others are merely indifferent. But surely when millions of our fighting men scattered all over the world are following this banner into battle with unwavering courage, those at home should be stirred to unfailing outpouring of respect for this symbol of American freedom.

In part, this is how it is done. During a flag ceremony or when the flag is passing, all persons should face the flag, stand at attention, and salute. Those in uniform should render the right hand salute; men not in uniform should remove their hats with the right and hold them at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart; women should place the hand over the heart.

War-Time TELEPHONE TIPS

Now that telephone materials have gone to war, we must get along with the facilities we have until a happier day. By using these facilities to the best advantage, you can help keep service good for everyone, including yourself. Try following these simple rules:—

1. Be sure you have the right number before placing a call. Consult your directory.
2. Answer all calls as promptly as possible.
3. If you're on a party line, apply the Golden Rule to your use of the line.
4. Don't ask "Information" for numbers that are listed in the directory.
5. Hang up carefully after each call. Don't let a book, or other object, hold the receiver off the hook.
6. Take good care of the telephone instrument and cord in your home and office. They're made of scarce and critical materials.

Fire at Glenrock Destroys Hangar and Six Trucks

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the No. 1 hangar at the Glenrock Airport last night, shortly before 8.

Fire Chief John P. Earley, of the Tanners Creek Fire Department, said that six trucks stored in the building were destroyed. The old airport was abandoned several years ago and the hangars have been used as garages. The trucks were the property of W. H. Smith, of London Bridge. Chief Earley said.

Earley said that he did not know how the fire started but that his truck company battled the flames more than an hour and a half before it was brought under control.

J. C. Hudgins, owner of the building, valued it at $8,000.

OVER NINE MILLION TO BE SPENT AT OCEANA AIR FIELD

According to information received from Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, approximately $912,500 is to be expended at the Oceana Naval Auxiliary Air Station for barracks, roads, heating plant; and other necessary buildings. When this new construction is completed this base will be the largest and most important naval air field in the Hampton Roads area.

(Continued from page 1) recreation to rebuild their morale. They need surgical dressings by the millions to bind up their wounds. They need some one to relay messages to and from home, to get information to them from their folks at home and to the folks from them in cases of illness and disaster. Some of them are prisoners in the hands of our enemies, and only God knows how some of them are being mistreated; only the Red Cross can find out!

There you have the story of the Red Cross. Where five national organizations saved the men at fighting fronts in the World War: One only one does it this time. Only the Red Cross is permitted access to the front lines. The Red Cross gets into the zone where our soldiers are held prisoners. Only the Red Cross can get the food packs to those prisoners.

Think of these things and when the drive starts March 1, do your part! That Men May Live!

OCEANA VS. CRADDOCK FEBRUARY 19

On Friday, February 18 at 7:30 P. M. the boys' and girls' basketball teams of Oceana will engage the boys and girls basketball team of Craddock on the Oceana court.

In a previous meeting the girls of Oceana defeated the girls of Craddock by the close score of 8 to 7. Whereas the boys defeated the Craddock boys by the score of 19 to 17.

From all indications this will be an even match and one of the best games of the year.

U. S. TO SAVE $5,000,000 BY CUTTING BOND SIZE

DON'T WASTE Electricity

just because it's not rationed

U NCLE SAM has told us. "Conservation of fuel, manpower, equipment and materials is a 'must' for the United States if we are to achieve the maximum war production every American wants."

There, in a few words, is the reason we must conserve Electricity.

Not because there is a shortage of Electricity itself, but because its production requires manpower... transportation... communication, fuel, and vital war materials... things in which there IS a shortage.

So... don't waste Electricity just because it's cheap and plentiful. Use all you need, but NEED all you use!

GARDENER SHOULD ORDER SEED AND FERTILIZER NOW

If you're planning a home garden for 1944, now is the time to get a lot of "spade work" done in the way of ordering seed and fertilizer and getting tools and fencing in good shape.

Garden specialists at V. P. I. have outlined the jobs gardeners should do this month as follows: Seed: Inspect stored seed and prevent weevil injury. Order other seed early to avoid transportation delays and other hold-ups.

Fertilizer: Determine what kind you'll need and how much. Information on kinds and amounts of fertilizer can be obtained from Extension Circular E-371, available in the office of your county agent. Order fertilizer early, or run the risk of not getting it in time to use it. Inspect fertilizer materials left from last year, and keep any on hand in a dry place.

REPAIR EQUIPMENT

Tools—Repair plows, hoes, sprayers, dusters, and the like. Keep all equipment stored in a dry place.

Fencing—Put up fences to keep chickens and other stock out of gardens.

Manure—Scatter over garden rather than leave it out-of-doors in piles.

If you haven't already done so, it's time to decide on the size of your '44 garden, the specialist point out. You should also determine the number of rows to be allotted to each vegetable.

13 VEGETABLES ARE 'MUSTS'
V. Vegetables that are "musts" for almost every family garden include cabbage, kale, lettuce, turnip, salad, beans, carrots, onions, potatoes, turnips, beans, corn, peas, and tomatoes. Gardeners are reminded that a good home garden should contain at least 15 to 20 vegetables selected to supply an abundance of food, either fresh, canned, or stored, for every month of the year.

MORE RAISINS AND LESS CHEESE

An additional 54 million pounds of raisins from the 1943 pack is being released for U. S. civilian use, by WPA. This action makes 336 million pounds of raisins released to civilians from the 1943 pack. Cheese supplies in 1944 will be divided so as to make available for civilians about four pounds per capita, or one pound less than they received during 1943. About five million more pounds of cheese have been allocated to U. S. servicemen than they used last year, an increase necessary mainly to provide milk nutrients for the larger number of soldiers overseas.

BEWARE OF MICE

Sometimes one or two, sometimes just passing through, but almost every home in Princess Anne has had to rid the premises of mice. They come and go, are pests we dislike as they destroy and damage, but we don't abhor them as we do rats. Rats we fight because we think of them as spreading disease and as a health hazard we don't waste time exterminating this menace. There is no reason for panic around here but we might bear in mind that recently two scientists found through research, that mice can carry infantile paralysis germs although you might have mice you do not necessarily have the disease present. But mice are found to be carriers. Upon the outbreak of infantile paralysis in a neighborhood, discovering a dead mouse in the house where the illness was fatal, trapping mice there also within a half-mile area of the diseased section, the doctors found the mice to contain the same virus as the human. Let us beware of mice as well as rats.

Test Blackout to Continue In All Virginia

Practice Alert on January 11 Very Successful

Practice blackouts and daylight drills will continue in the entire State of Virginia but only once in every three months. The tests will come on Sunday. This announcement was made by the war department and U. S. Office of civilian defense.

At the same time it was announced that practice alerts would be eliminated in the inland states. All the coastal states and Vermont and Pennsylvania will continue to have tests in the same manner as Virginia.

The use of the words "coastal areas" in making the announcement caused some confusion in Virginia. Many people took the statement to mean just small strips along the coastline of Virginia. "Coastal areas" as defined by the War Department included all of the states bordering on the coast.

Civilian Defense protection units are to remain intact and be ready for immediate action.

This change in the method of testing came on the heels of a surprise practice blackout on January 11, which covered the Third Region and Third Service Command, comprising the states of Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. The test was a success throughout the entire area. Virginia's participation was about as good as has been experienced.

NAVY LEAGUE URGES YOUTH TO GO TO SEA

A national program to arouse the interest of the American Youth in the Merchant Marine as a career was proposed in a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors of the Navy League of the United States at its current meeting in New York City. The resolution stressed the vital role which our Merchant Marine is destined to play in the post-war period of international adjustments, and warned that the lessons of the last war and the peace that followed "with their calamitous impact on our shipbuilding and operating system, must have not been in vain."

Those theaters which were unable to hold such a premiere gave newspaper advertisement, booths in the lobbies and extensive screen announcements, publicizing the 4th War Loan in every possible way.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

FOR WOMEN ONLY

(By Ruth Taylor)

One day out in the Middle West I was scheduled to speak to women's club on "Fighting Ideals." But unfortunately at the luncheon before the meeting I happened to tell a few incidents dating from my days as an editor of a fashion magazine. Immediately I was asked to change my topic to "How to become a fashion expert."

It was rather a bad break for any speaker. I didn't know how to say no—and yet I did feel that the question of democratic ideals was more important than fashions. So I compromised. I talked first about fashions and then I said, "Now if I had told you of some new styles, you could have made it the vogue here in your town—because you set the fashions. Therefore I say to you—if there is hatred, prejudice, ill will among the youth of this town it is your fault—because you could make it the fashion to be kind."

Maybe that was preachy, which is something I try to avoid doing. (I don't like women preachers either,) but it is a subject that is so close to my heart that I'll have to ask you to bear with me.

It is because the women of the community, the mothers, have this tremendous power of leadership that their responsibility is so great. Training in friendliness must begin at home. Training in fair play must begin at home. But all that any woman has to do is to train one family for life—train one family in understanding. And the first thing to do is to begin at home—with ourselves.

Let no child hear you speak unfairly, show hatred or prejudice of any group. Let no child see you act unfairly or with discrimination. This does not mean a wholesale opening of the doors of your home. It does mean demonstrating that you can respect people and be fair to them, without living with them or making them your personal friends.

Don't be patronizing—don't teach a child to be kind to "poor" people. Teach him to be kind—period. Half the class consciousness of this country would vanish if we would stop being charitable to the poor, truant and "stand-offish" to the rich.

You must make your children thoroughly aware of the fact that hates and prejudices are things not tolerated by anyone of good breeding, any more than eating peas with a knife, that that sort of thing isn't done by ladies or gentlemen in America.

It can't be done? Nonsense! There isn't a woman among you who doesn't know that you can make anything the fashion, anything the habit.

A child who hears no swearing, does not swear. A child who is taught politeness by example and precept is polite in times of stress. You do not allow your children to play with those children who habitually lie, or steal or use bad language. Why let your children be exposed to contact with the diseased minds of those who are intolerant or who hate?

There is a way that you and I can help to wipe out prejudice. We can control hatred at its very source, and substitute good feeling and understanding. We can do more to influence our children than any other group. We must teach them the fallacy of hatred, the peril of prejudice, the deadly evil of generalizations. Only in this way can we conquer the virus of group thinking, which has been the source of wars since the beginning of time.

WHAT'S THE MATTER GIRLS?

For a century and more American women have been demanding their rights, and now they have most of them. But they haven't won full equality with men. Men have the right to be drafted in time of war, to be assigned any service where they are thought to be needed, and to be put into uniform, whether or not they regard it as becoming. Women haven't that right. If they wish to be WAVES, WACS, SPARS, MARINES or Army and Navy Nurses, they have to volunteer.

A mere male would suppose they would volunteer so fast that the only difficulty would be to sort them out. He would think they would want to prove that they are just as willing as men to go to some trouble for their country's sake. This is not the case. Not one of the uniformed services for women has filled its quota. Not one has come near filling it. The girls in uniform delight the male eye. They are splendid workers in offices, laboratories, on flying fields, as storekeepers and supervisors. They have behaved admirably on duty and off. They seem to like the service life. The normal amount of wholesome romance has blessed them, as it does young women in plain clothes.

Yet their sisters continue to slight the services. A great many men who should have been and could have been released to fight have had to continue doing non-combat chores—there weren't enough women to replace them.

The mere male wonders what is the trouble. He can't believe that there is anything wrong with our young women. He has always admired them intends to continue to do so. Perhaps they just don't realize what is going on and how badly they are needed. A visit to a recruiting center—and there is one within easy reach—would enlighten them. Their old Uncle is in difficulties. He has work for his nieces as well as for his nephews.

Clean Up, Repair and Fertilize is Advice of Garden Specialists

Blacksburg—Let's make February fixing time in the garden, say vegetable gardening specialists at V. P. I.

It's now time to clean along the fence rows and to dig out bushes and trees by their roots, if they're close enough to shade the garden.

It is also time to examine the drainage and terracing set-up. Examine the garden after heavy rains, and see if any ditches are needed to carry off the water. If soil is washing away, plan terraces.

Dear Mr. Kontapaneas: No one knows better than you that this war is yet to be won, that the hardest and most difficult part lies before our country and our allies.

Of extreme importance to the victory that must be ours is the success of the Fourth War Loan Campaign opening Tuesday.

In the past you have been a number 1 salesman for Uncle Sam's best investment from both a patriotic and a financial viewpoint. Your service to the people of these United States and our fellowmen in all embattled nations in promoting the sale of previous bond issues has been outstanding.

Such soldiers on the home front as yourself are invaluable. The Executive Committee of the forthcoming bond drive is looking to you for the same splendid results they have come to expect from your enthusiastic leadership.

Sincerely yours,
Samuel Z. Troy, State Chairman,
Foreign Origin Groups.

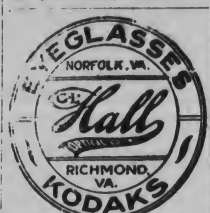

"Jimmy" is to be congratulated on such signal recognition for services rendered.

WAR BONDS will help to back the WACS, WAVES and SPARS.

WAR BONDS are your shares in "American, Preferred."

That's the burning question that confronts dining car personnel on American railroads every day.

More millions are riding trains than ever before—and everybody wants to eat. That's right and proper—and we are glad of it. The job of feeding the millions of wartime travelers is being done—by streamlining service to the nth degree, by stretching ration points to almost the breaking point—and above all, it is being done with your good natured tolerance and cooperation.

But it's not a job to be sneezed at. Take the situation on the Norfolk and Western, for example. We are serving nearly five times more people on our dining cars now than in 1939—and without any additional equipment. (Not a single new dining car has been turned out since Pearl Harbor.) Furthermore, today's ration point system for railroad dining cars calls for meal planning that would drive the most ingenious housewife crazy. For instance the N. & W. is allowed an average of .93 of one ration point for meats, fats and dairy products for each meal served each passenger, and that includes members of the armed forces on special movements, who must be fed from civilian allotments. Then, there's the manpower shortage—like every other business, railroad dining car service has lost a number of experienced employees to the armed forces. (And right here we would like to say: those who are on the job are really "carrying on" in a big way.)

The Norfolk and Western has always taken pride in its dining car service. And now, with the tremendously increased travel and wartime difficulties, we are doing our very level best to maintain that service—by making the most of what we have. Dining cars have been redesigned to seat 40 passengers instead of 30. Every square inch of space is being utilized. Meals are served almost continuously.

If you have to stand in line at the dining car, if you are not served as promptly as you want to be; if that T-bone steak is not on the menu, we believe that you will continue to understand, and bear with us. And you may be sure that our dining car folks will continue to exert every effort to serve you efficiently and give you the very best the market affords.

PLAN ANOTHER VICTORY GARDEN

You can help relieve the food and manpower shortage by again turning your backyard, your unused flowerbeds, and other available ground into Victory gardens. No vegetables taste so good as those you plant and raise with your own hands. Dig into our "good earth"—and you will have the real satisfaction of knowing that you and your family are fighting for Victory.

OCEANA F. F. A. PLANS MINSTREL SHOW

The Virginia Association, Future Farmers of America is a State organization of boys studying vocational agriculture in the high schools of Virginia. Such an organization functions in Oceana. The report of the last meeting was turned in by Gordon Potter. Plans were made for a Father and Son banquet to be held the latter part of February and for a minstrel show to be presented before the school in the spring. It was also reported that a purchased bear had been purchased from the Norfolk City farm and was being kept by one of the members for four years at the expiration of that time the bear will become his property for the feed bill.

During the past year the Virginia F. F. A. bought bonds and stamps amounting to $127,368. Their slogan was: "A stamp's a bullet, a bond's a gun. Buy them both 'til the war is won."

The husband, after a tiring day, was resting and enjoying the evening paper. The wife, who was pondering over a crossword puzzle, suddenly called out:

"Henry, what is a female sheep?"

"Ewe," curtly replied her husband, and that's how the row started.

PARTY LINES are PATRIOTIC LINES

The copper that used to go into new telephone lines is now going into war weapons. This means we must make the most of the lines we now have.

Thus, party lines become a part of our all-out war effort—they take the name—PATRIOTIC LINES.

You will find that "Patriotic Line" telephone service is good telephone service if all users will follow these simple rules:

1. If another is using the line, hang up gently and wait a reasonable time before trying again.
2. Make way for your neighbor by being as brief as you can on your calls.
3. Avoid making a "switch" or "cut-in" succession.
4. Replace the receiver carefully after each call so as not to prevent others from using the line.

IS THE FEED SHORTAGE OVER?

The answer, in all probability, is "No."

Corn is the key to the whole feed situation. Midwestern hogs can still pay more for corn than the ceiling price set by Government order. And there are still enough hogs in the Corn Belt to eat up the rest of the 1943 corn crop. Nearly half of the crop is already gone.

Southern States grain buyers, along with other grain handlers, predict that the flow of corn to the market will freeze up again within 60 to 90 days. Even if the market becomes favorable, corn growers do not generally move their corn during the busy planting season. That season is just around the corner and serves of corn are practically gone.

Last May, when corn went off the market, mixers turned to barley, oats and wheat. There is no such "out" this year. We simply do not have the barley or the oats or the wheat.

Members of Southern States Cooperative must protect themselves in the event of another disruption in feed service.

What Farmers can do

Starting immediately, farmers can build up and keep a 30 to 60 day supply of feed right on the farm. This will prove to be a valuable cushion when and if feed service is interrupted by shortages of corn or other ingredients. Southern States Cooperative Service Agencies are now geared to help you build up the farm feed inventory. They may not be able to help you do it later.

As poultry mashers are fed, they should be drawn from the oldest pile to insure the proper vitamin content for the poultry.

Attention should be given seriously to growing more grain and grass forage on the farm. Pullet, as well as cows, can benefit from a leafy succulent range which saves feed costs. Every measure must be taken: First, to build up a feed backlog and Second, to produce more home grown feed to stretch purchased feed further.

EVEN CYCLOPS COULD SEE IT
See what? That electric rates are much lower now than they used to be.
Come again? It's the truth. The average family gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.
Quit clowning! Seems to me my bill gets bigger every year.
Know why, don't you? Because all along you're using more service, more appliances—to make home life easier, more efficient. For example, you're using an electric range now, aren't you?
Sure. Got it—oh, five years ago.
And a washing machine for your wife?
Yep. No horse-and-buggy days for us.
And didn't you buy an electric refrigerator or back in those days, dead days before the war when there were such things? And a couple of electric fans on hot summer?
Okay, okay. You win.
No—you win. You win the greatest household and industrial servant of them all—electricity. And at rates that have stayed down while the cost of living—as it always does in wartime—has gone up. Something to keep in mind, isn't it?
You said it, brother!
